

Solicitors

Looking after you as clients.

Streets has established and continues to develop a specialism for looking after solicitors, whether you operate as a sole practitioner or a multi-partner firm.

The firm's expertise and understanding of the accounting, financial and tax matters relating to the legal profession are acknowledged by its partners' authorship of 'Solicitors, An Industry Accounting and Auditing Guide'.

Our work with solicitors includes:

- Solicitors Accounts Rule (SAR) reports
- Partner's personal tax
- Incorporation, or limited liability partnerships
- Partnership changes
- Remuneration
- Practice finance

In addition to the dedicated service, we provide solicitors and their clients with a number of specialist services covering business and personal matters.

Litigation support

Litigation is a complex area of law and almost every dispute has financial or commercial ramifications. In support of our colleagues in the legal profession, we are able to provide an efficient and timely resource assisting with the computation and quantification of damages/losses or claims relating to a variety of matters including:

- Business disputes
- Matrimonial disputes
- Personal disputes
- Loss of profits
- Business valuations

Forensic accounting

Streets Forensic Accountant is a dedicated arm which provides services to the legal and other professions to establish the extent of a financial loss, confirm the reason for the loss, impartially present the findings in a written report and, when required, present the case as an expert witness to the court.
